Ava Boyle

This sweet dancer's name is Ava Catherine. She is 16 years old, and a Jr in high school. She took her first dance class at only 20 months old. She was still in diapers and didn't even know how to say "here" during roll call, but she loved tap from day one. She continues to take tap instruction from her very first dance teacher, Ms. Terrie Batson at Techniques In Motion School of Dance in Wilmington, NC.

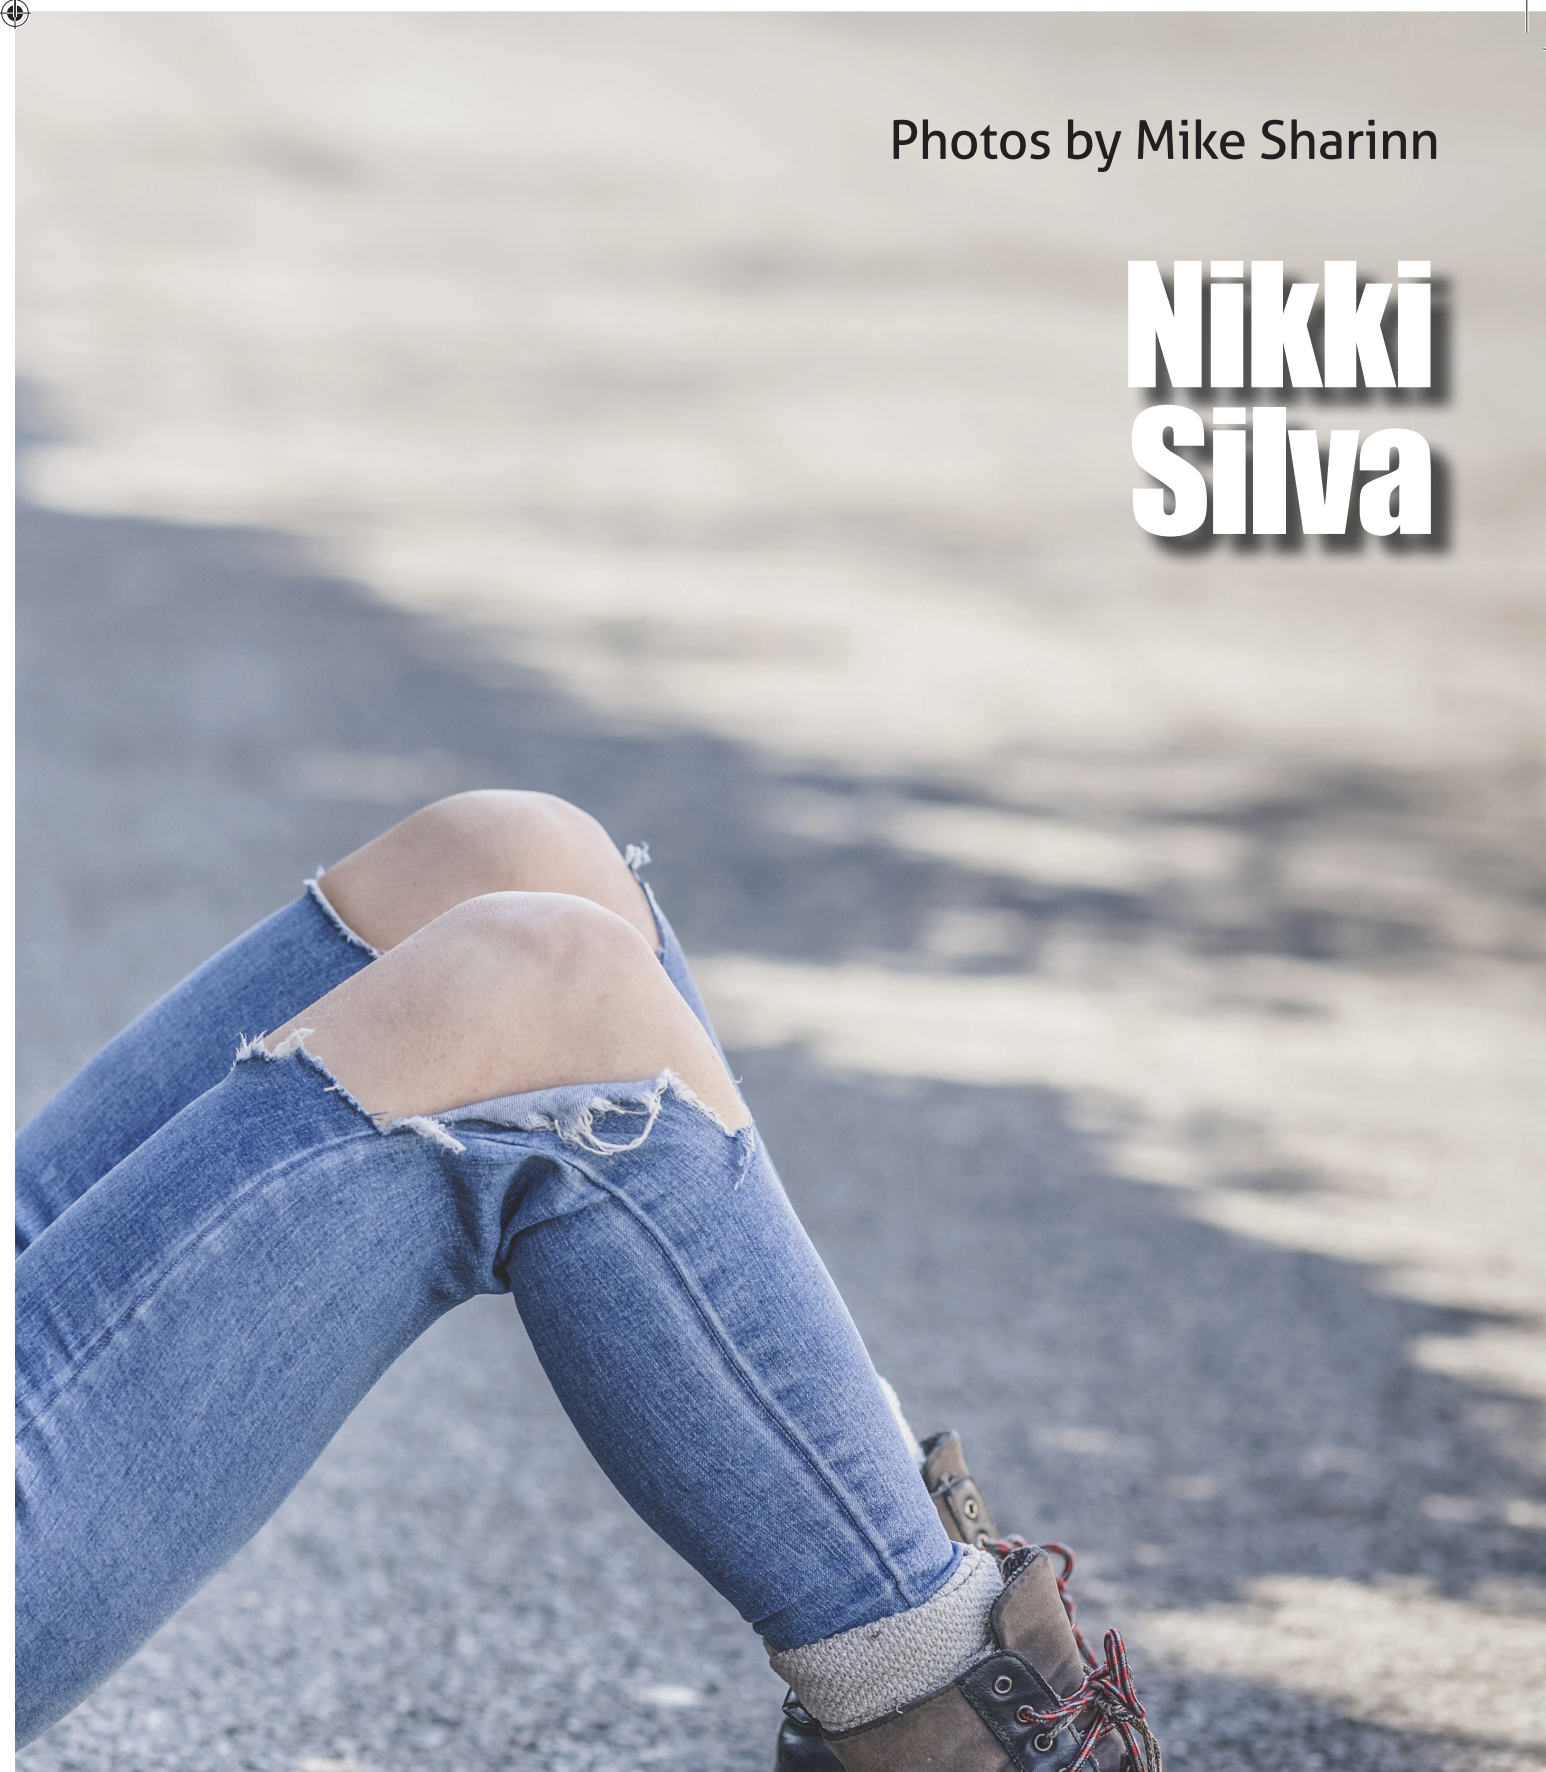

Competitive dance has been a huge part of her life since she was invited to join the mini dance team at her studio when she was 7 years old. During her years of competitive dance she has won many top awards. When she was 8 years old she was dealt a tough blow as she was diagnosed with Epilepsy. She has fought her way through the ups and downs of her disorder with dance being a constant priority for her. Dance has been a wonderful force in her life. It is way more than just a hobby, it's been her way of life for as long as she can remember. It's her refuse, comfort, family, love, happiness, passion, fun, physical education, focus and favorite time consuming activity. She lights up on stage, and truly enjoys every aspect of dance, from the long hours in the studio leaning choreography to the excitement of being on stage. She is always happy to assist in any way she can at her dance studio, from cleaning the ballet bars to helping a fellow dancer learn a challenging step, always with a smile on her face.

Next year will be her last year of dance as she will graduate from high school. I can't image how she will fill the time she dedicates to dance, but I know because of dance she will do amazing things. These photos are just a snap shot of her love of dance.

My name is Ayden Kosko, I am a passionate and driven 17 year old freelance model from Lloydminster, AB/SK. I previously won Miss Teen Canada Petite 2018/19, Miss Teen Alberta Globe 2018 and I was a International finalist at Universal Petite this past summer on Carnival Cruise to Mexico.

I've modelled in New York Couture Fashion week for a French designer, modelled for Alberta designer Michelle Bossert with Enchanted Ever After in Edmonton Fashion Show, Ethnos Fashion Gala, BOTP, Weddings On The Border Bridal Show, and multiple other shows throughout the years. My passion is helping people and trying to positively impact and change the world.

I am a hardworking, determine, and passionate model. I have the fashion world as a passion. I am determine to change the world, and I am hardworking to be a positive influence. It is hard for a model under 5'6" to be recognized, and as I am 5'4", I want to change the stigma around modeling. I have been working hard to show that height, size, age, and race doesn't matter. It is all about what is on the inside! Being a petite model, it's amazing to be able to inspire girls of all ages to come out of their comfort zone, try new things, have confidence and to follow their dreams no matter what.

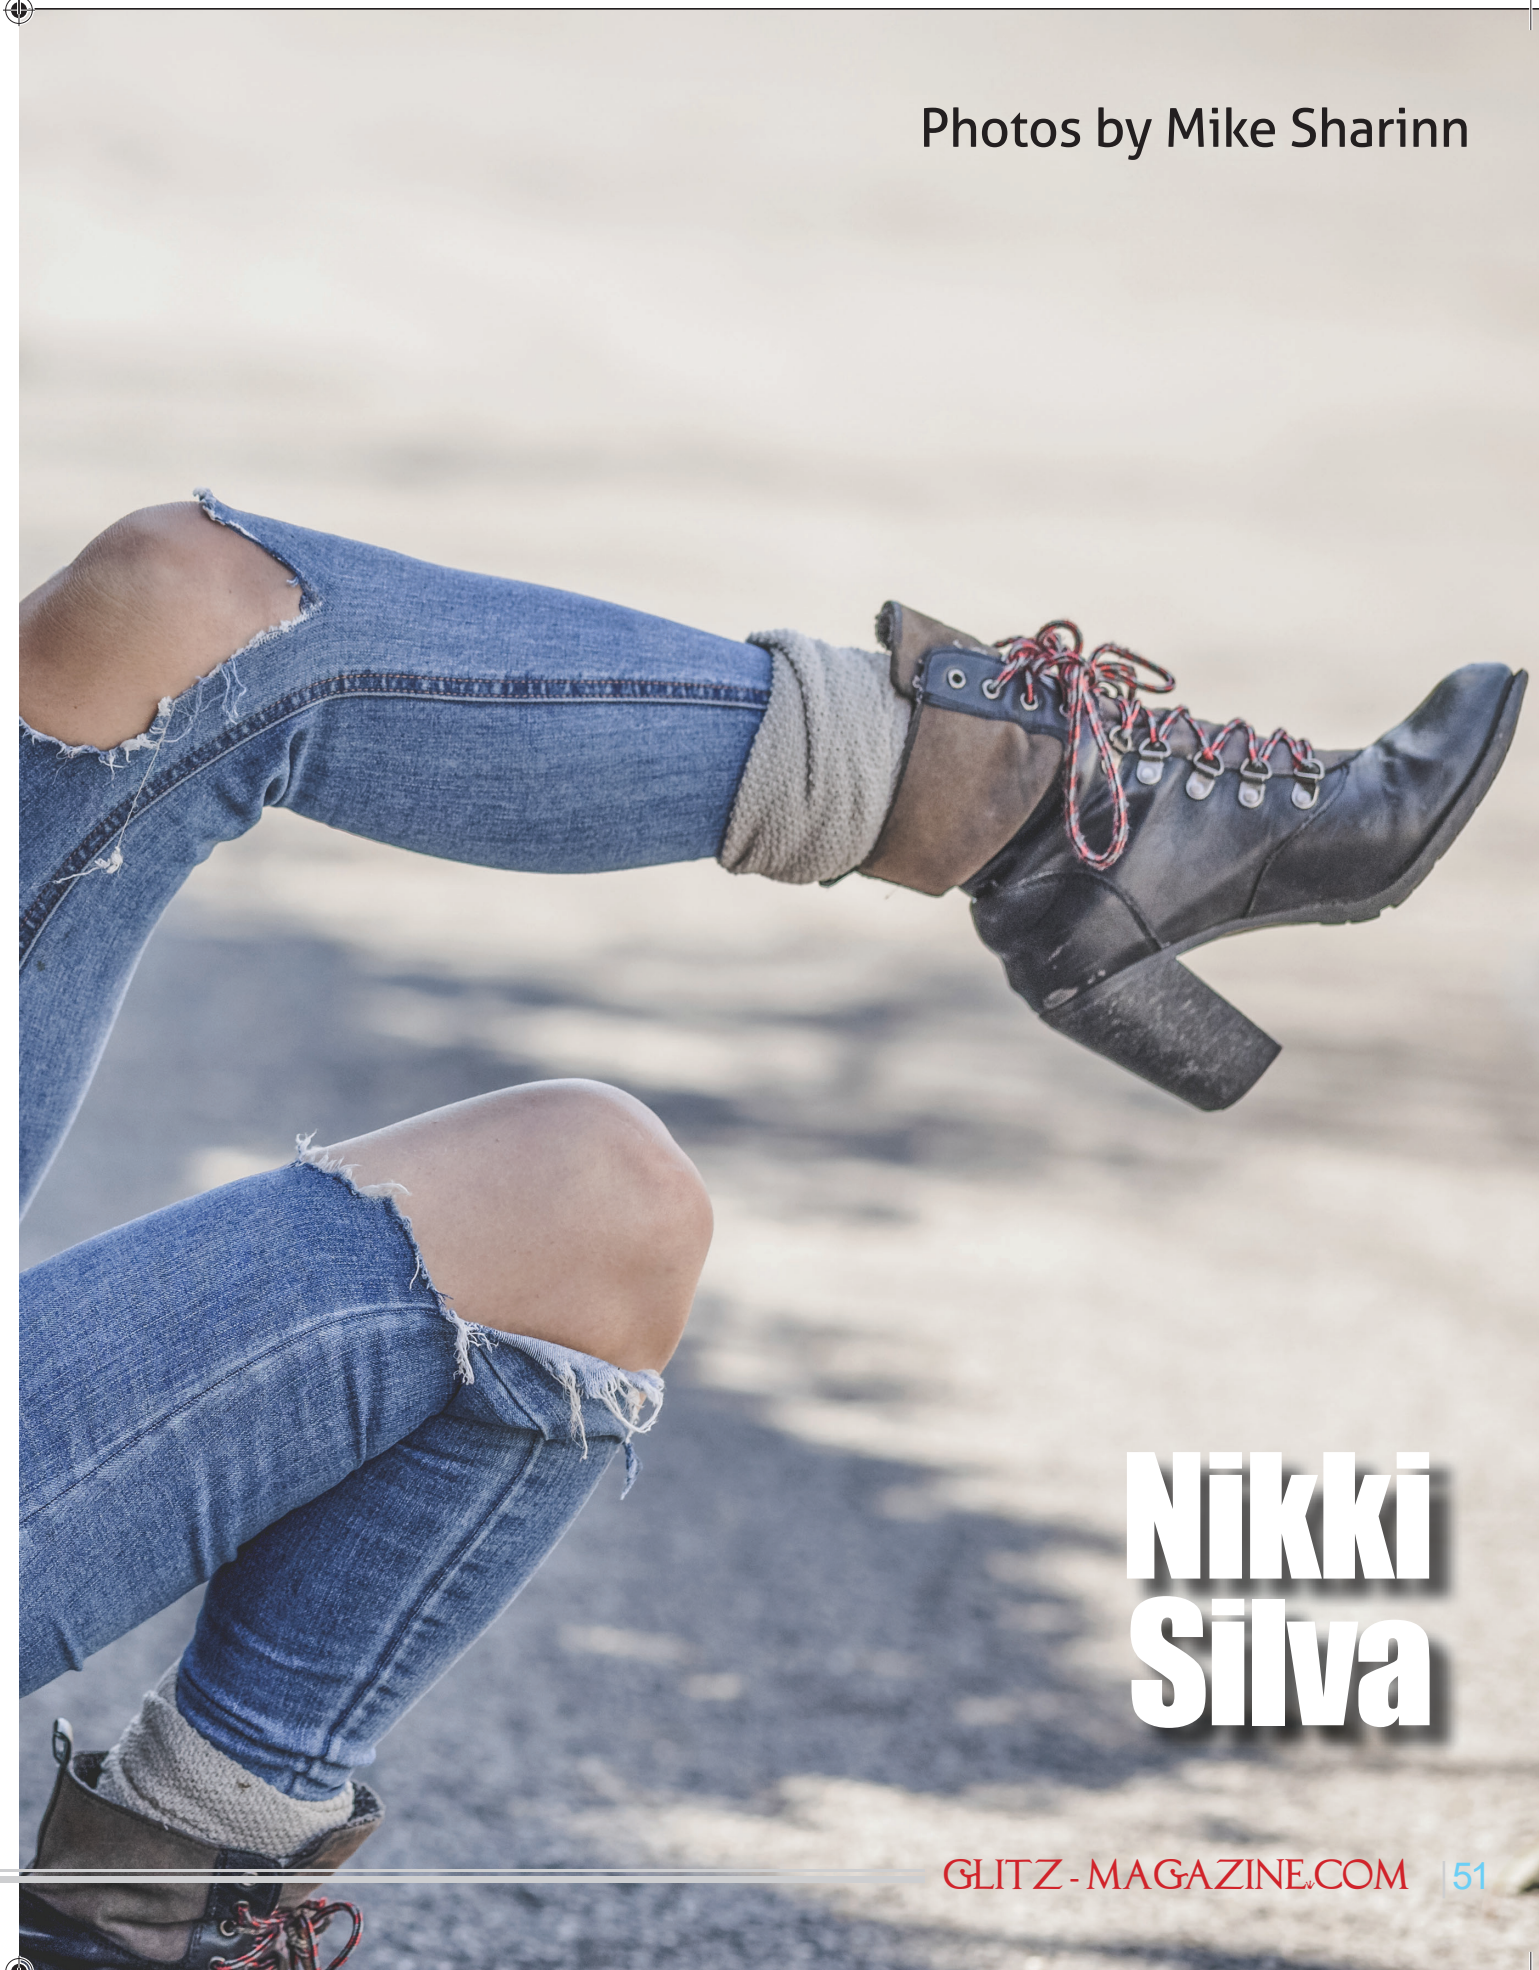

Another one of my platform focuses on brain injuries and concussions. Two years ago, I had a severe concussion which almost changed my life forever. I had fallen and hit my head on concrete. I wasn't myself; I couldn't remember much, I couldn't hear things next to me, being around lots of people made me over-react and I couldn't handle much. That is why I have chosen this as my platform, as I was able to recover. It has affected me personally and I can relate to it, and I want to bring education and awareness that recovery is possible, and support is available. I want to bring awareness to this cause, since it affects so, so many people. Over 1.5 million Canadians suffer and live with the effects from brain injuries and every 3.5 minutes a Canadian gets a concussion. I have partnered up with L.A.B.I.S (Lloydminster & Area Brain Injury Society) to help out the members, bring awareness, educate, and volunteer my time with them to help out as much as I can. Just to have someone sit and listen to them and interact in conversations makes them happy. I also advocate to help and support those who have dealt with and are dealing with cyber bullying. I feel as if someone should stand up to this, so I took it upon myself to stand up against cyberbullying. We are all human, and everyone is beautiful in their own way.

This past year, I was enrolled in Psychology. I have been accepted into the University of Saskatchewan for Sociology major and Psychology minor to specialize in Criminology at the College of Criminology. I would like to be involved in forensics, or laws and justice. I am also an animal lover, so if my mind changes, I would be going in for Veterinary Practice.

My hobbies/passions also are volunteering at multiple organizations such as Furbabies Furever Homes, a dog rescue where I am able to help out dogs by getting them healthy, and giving them the love and care they need, sports such as soccer and rugby, modeling and dancing, and helping out my community.

Hi, my name is Jaymie! I'm the sweetest birdsong on the mountainside 95% of the time, but the remaining 5% of my time spent is dancing between various stages of volcanic eruption. I've worn my volcano hair for thirty years and have only recently learned that you never should've expected anything less!

I work at the best roofing company in the midwest, and I'm proud to work with my family at my family's business. I'm honored to be a woman in roofing and part of the National Women in Roofing association. I am also part of the Nebraska Women in Roofing Book Club, which is geared towards women empowerment, achieving excellence in our industry, and giving back to our community. We are currently reading the #1 New York Times bestselling self-help book You Are A Badass by Jen Sincero, and I highly recommend this text.

I graduated from the University of Nebraska at Omaha, and taught both Art and English for Omaha Public Schools before returning to my family's business. The Nebraska Women in Roofing Book Club is currently collecting shoes (or donations to purchase shoes) for Omaha Public Schools, the largest school district in the great state of Nebraska. If you are interested in donating toward our cause please contact me on instagram @jaymieschroeder. I am a midwest model and member of both the Nebraska Modeling Network, and the Iowa Modeling Network. My online portfolio can be found on my instagram, and I am hoping to become a member of additional modeling avenues as well. I have goals toward membership in agencies such as Gaia Models and America's Most Wanted Models. Please support me by following my instagram; I promise to follow you back!
